SOME weeks ago the News mailed statement to practically every subscriber who was in arrears on the paper, explaining how the new postal ruling made our action necessary and requesting that each subscription be paid up, that we might continue to send the paper. Many responded promptly, and these have our sincere thanks. Others have delayed attending to the matter, probably intending to settle later. We must remind these subscribers that only a short time remains in which we are permitted to carry their names.
Uncle Sam is back of the postal laws, and always means just what he says.
We would like to oblige everybody who desires credit, but if we do so we risk losing our second class mail privilege, which we cannot do and continue in business. So please make us glad with the cash in advance. Otherwise we have no course but to stop your paper.

The financial statements of Jasper's two banks appears in this issue of the News, and our readers will note with satisfaction that both the First National and the Bank of Jasper are in their usual sound condition, and show good increase in business.

Mrs. Frank Runyon, whose serious illness we have previously noted, is reported to be resting well today.

Notice

I have recently purchased the farm of Mrs. Rose one half miles of Jasper, known as the old Taftinger farm, and will be located there March 1st. or soon thereafter with my breeding stock as follows: "Stentor" the well known Joash Stallion, "Blue Boy," the prize winning jack of the County, also "Jumbo" and "Grover", and will add more stock to my stables before the season opens.

JASPER W. C. T. U. MEETS.

All Day Session at Baptist Church Monday.

The Jasper district W. C. T. U. institutes convened in this city last Monday, holding an all day and evening session at the Baptist church. In the neighborhood of half a hundred delegates from outside of Jasper were present, and a good crowd heard all the proceedings.

Mrs. Kate F. Newton, president of the district, called the meeting to order for the morning session, which was opened with a song service led by C. F.
Lyons. Mr. Lyons' song, "We're Here Because We're Here" took the delegates by storm. Mrs. Moulton made the address of welcome, Mrs.
Newton responding for the visiting delegates. Other addresses were made by C. F. Lyons, Revs. Deakins and Prall, and Mrs. Eva O. Smith, whose address was the feature of the morning session.

Mrs. Moulton presided over the afternoon meeting which was featured by the addresses of Mmes. Newton and Smith, both exceptional speakers, and music, Revs. Prall and Deakins, C. F.
Lyons and Mrs. Smith being the contributors in the later line.

The evening was given over to a recital by Miss Parmelia Mahan, who has appeared here before. The attendance was not as large as the performance merited, owing to a delay in giving the affair publication.

Plot That Failed.

Thirteen prisoners in the jail at Carthage conspired together to effect their escape last Monday, and but for a tip received by Jailer Weaver in the nick of time the plot would almost certainly have succeeded.

Dunlap and Hurst, the two desperadoes who came so near killing the jailer a few weeks ago in an attempted escape which was thwarted by "Trusty" Pine, were the leaders in the new conspiracy, which had for its object the murder of Weaver and the escape of all the prisoners.

The iron bar that locks the cells in corridor No. 1 had been sawed nearly in two, and the electric wires were crossed so that no light could be turned on. It was intended Monday night to finish the bar and gain access to the corridor, attracting the jailer into the corridor by some means, where he would be overpowered.

A tip is said to have been passed to the jailer by a prisoner. Every precaution was at once taken to make escape impossible, and the men were searched.
The plan was disclosed in its entirety by the findings of the officers.

It was a cunning scheme, and it is merely good fortune that it failed.

Miss Parmelia Mahan, the well known elocutionist, will give a recital at the M. E. church tonight. Those who attend will doubtless be well entertained.
